

Overview of characters (summary)

Benedict Grey: 23 years old, governor (male)

A young governor who often finds himself meekly following others. His game is about being an adult and making choices, he's involved in a vast majority of plots. The player gently steers the game and know the end in advance. This character is, therefore, suitable for an experienced player.

Sophie Troy: 19 years old (female)

A young girl who needs to decide what values and what people are important to her. The role requires being able to play with others which is enabled by rich connections with other characters.

Caroline/Carl Grey: 49 years old (female/male)

Mother (father) of the governor with remarkable influence on Benedikt. She (he) has significant power and authority among others and tries to solve problems amicably. She (he) is the hostess of the meeting. The role is about various forms of friendship.

Ian Nest: 28 years old, teacher (male)

A character convinced of his life view, a teacher using non-conventional methods. Extrovert role with an inner contradiction. Suitable for a player who is willing to play out a conflict.

Mark O'Connor: 46 years old, pilot (male)

A role with many connections, both positive and negative. Less involved in the global happenings, more involved in individual relationships between characters. Outwardly cheerful and social, inwardly a more complicated character with more underlying choices.

Father Joseph: 47 years old, priest (male)

A priest with complicated past, which he, however, tried to bury. Yet your past will catch up with you when you least expect it... Others would go to Father Joseph for advice and he always tries to comply. A role about wisdom and responsibility.

John Raw: 41 years old, foreman (male)

A radical, grumpy, cynical cripple with a colorful past. The role requires to play a disabled person and is significantly extroverted.

TJ: 25 years old (female/male)

A young rebel who became the hero of the settlement. Very extroverted, powerful character who won't take shit from anybody. Some people think (s)he is stupid, but that's not true.

William/Wilma Taylor: 50 years old, trader (male/female)

A rich businessman/businesswoman who knows how to assert his/her opinions. He/she rans against the current governor in the elections. Some people might not like him/her that much.

Gideon Allen: 23 years old, doctor (male)

A young educated man with unwavering morals. It might be his morals that will lead him to a conflict with those he respects the most. A role with a strong inner experience.