

Conclusion notes

Alex

"As a dog returns to its vomit, so fools repeat their folly." Proverbs 26,11

You caught HIV from Mary.

This is where the game ends for you and Mary. Don't do or say anything. You return to the room with the bar in silence. If there is something going on at the bar, you stay at the door and do not interfere.

After Billy and Jane finish their game as well, find a place to sit and just listen to the music.

Billy

"From the fruit of their lips people are filled with good things, and the work of their hands brings them reward." Proverbs, 12,14

You fell down the stairs on your way to the bathroom and crippled yourself. Ever since then, you have been paralysed from the waist down. Your worst nightmare came true - you're a cripple unable to take care of yourself. You would rather be dead.

This is where the game ends for you and Jane. Don't do or say anything. Find a place to sit and just listen to the music.

Jane

"You may ignore reality, but you cannot ignore the consequences of ignoring reality."

You didn't help Billy get to the toilet; because of you, he fell down the stairs and crippled himself. Ever since then, he has been paralysed from the waist down. His worst nightmare came true - he is a cripple unable to take care of himself.

And you will have to live with it.

This is where the game ends for you and Billy. Don't do or say anything. Find a place to sit and just listen to the music.
